Order of Mass P6, The Nicene Creed P11

In the First Reading we hear Luke’s dramatic and noisy account of Pentecost – violent wind and tongues of fire. In the Gospel reading, the Spirit comes as a gentle breath. Whatever form it takes or however we experience the work of the Spirit in our own lives, we can be confident that we are never without the presence of God – Pentecost is that promise realised. We can probably recall times when we were afraid, bewildered and felt like everything was falling apart. Today’s Gospel shows us that even in those difficult times, there is always hope. Jesus came and stood amongst the disciples even though the doors were firmly closed. The peace that he gives them (Shalom) has a much more significant meaning than we first think. It is not simply a good wish. The peace that Jesus offers is a peace that this world cannot offer. It is a peace that comes from a loving relationship with God; a peace of body, of mind and of spirit. Jesus is asking the disciples to be an unending witness to God’s love. They (and we) must be for others what Jesus has been for them.

‘I flame above the beauty of the fields to signify the earth – the matter from which humanity was made. I shine in the waters to indicate the soul, for, as water suffuses the whole earth, the soul pervades the whole body.

I burn in the sun and the moon to denote Wisdom, and the stars are the innumerable words of Wisdom.’

Mary's sorrows and joys, her hopes for her child and husband, and her quiet endurance ring true to the experience of families today, that's why she is easy to identify with. Her motherly love and courage are seen at the foot of the cross, where she teaches us the virtue of waiting even when everything appears meaningless.

Salve Regina

Hail Holy Queen, Mother of Mercy,
Hail our life our sweetness and our hope.
To thee do we cry, poor banished children of Eve;
To thee do we send up our sighs,
mourning and weeping in this valley of tears.
Turn then, most gracious advocate,
thine eyes of mercy toward us and after this our exile
show unto us the blessed fruit of thy womb, Jesus.
O clement, O loving, O sweet Virgin Mary!

The Rosary is said on Friday mornings at All Saints at 9.10am. For those unable to come to church, the Rosary will continue to be available on both St. Lewis and St. Catherine and All Saints websites.
